

Specific Learning Difficulty Support

Earlywormsolutions Ltd is a small organisation run by qualified professionals offering assessment and 1:1 support for those who are affected by Dyslexia and other learning difficulties.

Dot Webb runs the Specific Learning Difficulty Support Service and after many years as teacher, Headteacher, and Learning Support consultant has joined earlyworm to develop this specialist service for young people and adults who require positive programmes to help overcome their difficulties.

Helping you help yourself

The most important part of the work is to give confidence and skills to each client who attends earlyworm sessions. For this reason, we look to 1:1 sessions (parents are welcome to stay and have a post session de-brief).

We look to success through each client following through with work set and developing an open relationship with the tutor.

For younger clients a pre-examination / test support programme is offered in the 6 week period leading up to the event.

Most importantly, we like to discuss your needs at the earliest point of referral to construct the best approach to enable each client to learn.
